THE HAUNTED PALACE.

BY THE LATE EDGAR A. POE.

In the greenest of our valleys,
By good angels tenanted,
Once a fair and stately palace—
Radiant palace—reared its head,
In the monarch Thought's dominion—
It stood there!
Never seraph spread a pinion
Over fabric half so fair!

Banners yellow, glorious, golden,
On its roof did float and flow,
(This—all this—was in the olden
Time long ago.)
And every gentle air that dallied,
In that sweet day,
Along the ramparts plumed and pallid,
A winged odor went away.
Wanderers in that happy valley,
Through two luminous windows, saw
Spirits moving musically,
To a lute's well tuned law,
Round about a throne where, sitting
(Porphyrogene!)
In state his glory well befitting,
The ruler of the realm was seen.

And all with pearl and ruby glowing
Was the fair palace door,
Thro' which came flowing, flowing, flowing,
And sparkling evermore,
A troop of Echoes, whose sweet duty
Was but to sing,
In voices of surpassing beauty,
The wit and wisdom of their king.

But evil things in robes of sorrow
Assailed the monarch's high estate,
(Ah, let us mourn!—for never morrow
Shall dawn upon him desolate!)
And round about his home the glory
That blushed and bloomed,
Is but a dim-remembered story
Of the old, time entombed.

And travelers, now, within that valley,
Through the red litten windows see
Vast forms that move fantastically,
To a discordant melody,
While, like a ghastly, rapid river,
Through the pale door,
A hideous throng rush out forever,
And laugh—but smile no more!

PICTURES OF MEMORY.

BY ALICE CAREY.

Among the beautiful pictures
That hang on Memory's wall
Is that of a dim old forest
That seemeth best of all.
Not for its gnarled oak olden,
Dark with the mistletoe;
Not for the violets golden
That sprinkle the vale below;
Not for the milk white lilies
That lean from the fragrant hedge,
Coquetting all day with the sunbeams,
And stealing their golden edge;
Not for the vines of the upland
Where the bright red berries rest,
Nor the pinks, nor the pale sweet cowslip,
It seemeth to me the best.

I once had a little brother,
With eyes that were dark and deep—
In the lap of that old dim forest
He lieth in peace asleep;
Light as the down of the thistle,
Free as the winds that blow,
We roved there the beautiful Summers,
The Summers long ago;
But his feet on the hills grew weary,
And one of the Autumn eves,
I made for my little brother
A bed of yellow leaves.

Sweetly his pale arms folded
My neck in a meek embrace,
As the light of immortal beauty
Silently covered his face;
And when the arrows of sunset
Lodged in the tree-tops bright,
He fell, in his saint-like beauty,
Asleep by the gates of light:—
Therefore, of all the pictures
That hang on Memory's wall,
The one of the dim old forest
Seemeth the best of all.

WINTER BUTTER.

Some have difficulty in making butter in winter. This is probably owing to the fact that the original fountain head of the butter—the "old cow," does not receive the right kind of raw material from which to manufacture the cream. If she be supplied with this, and the milk when strained be placed upon the stove until it gets warmed up a little, say until a few bubbles rise up, there is usually but little trouble in making what is called "winter butter."

Dr. Holmes, editor of the Maine Farmer, gives the above advice and cites this article from the "Ohio Cultvator," which is short and to the purpose, whether for summer or winter operations:

"State Fair goers of late years have noticed that A. Havens, of Delaware county, has carried off the first premiums for butter. While at the Delaware County Fair, this fall, we asked Mr. Havens how it was done, and he told us his views, in this wise: He uses common tin pans, strains them pretty full of milk, and lets it stand till it changes or becomes thick. The cream is then skimmed off, and churned in a dash churn holding half a barrel. After churning, wash the butter in cold spring water till the buttermilk is well out, then work in three-fourths of an ounce of Ashton foctory solar salt to the pound of buttar. Let it stand 24 hours, and then work out the baine with a ladle. Mr. Havens keeps his milk on shelves in a stone spring house. He thinks the right temperature for cream at the time of churning is 62 degrees. The cream should not be scalded in finishing the churning, gather the butter slowly. The best grass for dairy pasture is timothy and clover.

In winter, feed the cows bran and shorts, six quarts at a feed. Shorts alone is too heavy feed for cows; it is better to have the mess more than half bran. Where the arrangements are favorable, Mr. H. says he would as soon make butter in winter as summer. Mr. Havens has a large cow, one-fourth Devon, 8 years old, from which he has made 14 lbs of butter per week, the 1st of June, and in the last of September 10 lbs. a week.

MONARCH OF THE ORCHARD.—The Reading Press says the largest apple tree in the United States is standing within the limits of the city of Reading, on the farm of Wm. B. Schoener. It is called the 'President'—a name given to it many years ago by the venerable Wm. Schoener, father of the present owner. The stock of trunk of the tree measures five feet and a half in diameter at a point a few feet above the ground; there is a portuberance or excrescence of bark, of great thickness, not included, however, in the measurement. Its annual yield of apples was never less than sixty bushels. The apples in size were as large as the Fallenwalder. The tree is estimated to be over one hundred years old, and attained its present size fifty years ago. The upper branches are large massive columns, which would make ten ordinary apple trees, supporting, when in bloom, an arch of foliage of sixty-five feet in diameter and a circumference of over two hundred feet.

Apple—yellowish green ground, faint red checks, white flesh, sub acid short thick stem, shape symmetrical, and all of regular size—Season from November till April. The editor has frequently enjoyed the apple, and found it of superior quality. The tree is evidently in its dotage, but ten years ago it was in prime bearing condition. The same kind of apple is not known to exist elsewhere. A large number of graftings from this tree are now growing in various parts of Reading.

MANURE.—We have frequently cautioned farmers not to bury their manure too deep in the soil, as the tendency if their juices is downward—not upward. A writer in an exchange says: "I have found in all experiments that the nearer I kept the manure to the top of the ground, the more I got from it. I spread at the rate of thirty to forty loads of manure: I then put the plough in from ten to twelve inches deep—It was an old fashioned plough and turned it over very flat and smooth. The rest of the piece I ploughed about eight inches deep. I treated the piece all alike, after that, until I laid it down. I meant to put it where the ammonia would not escape. I watched the field for six or seven years, and I could not see any difference in the crops, where this extra manure was put, till I took the piece again, and then I purposely put the plow down so as to bring up my lost manure to the light and heat, and it told the story for the next seven years where it was.

SAWDUST FOR LITTERING STABLES.—This is quite valuable to absorb the liquids and to prevent the foul odors arising from stables. If ammonia is one of the most powerful fertilizers, why should not the greatest pains be taken to save it? For this purpose, saw-dust is just the thing. It is useful, also, on the score of the horse's health and comfort. It is injurious to an animal's feet to stand in the liquids of his stall: it is hurtful to his eyes and his stomach, and his lungs, to remain long in an atmosphere charged with the powerful vapors arising from those liquids. We wonder that the creatures stand it so well as they do. Dry muck answers very well to scatter daily in the stables, though saw dust is much neater.

TO MAKE HENS LAY IN WINTER.—Provide.

1. A comfortable roost.
2. Plenty of sand, gravel and ashes, dry, to play in.
3. A box of lime.
4. Boiled meat, chopped fine, every two or three days.
5. Corn and oats, best if boiled tender.
6. All crumbs and potatoe parings.

This treatment has proved quite successful—and hens which, without it, gave no eggs, with it immediately laid one each, on an average, every two days.

DEATH OF COL. LEHMANOWSKY.

We regret to learn that Col. Lehmanowsky, at one time a resident of Lancaster county, died in Clark county, Indiana, on the 4th inst. He was a Pole by birth, and an officer under Napoleon during his wars. He was a man of great bravery, and saw hard service, as the numerous scars that he wore testified. He won distinguished honors in the service, and was ardently attached to the interests of Napoleon. When the latter entered France from Elba, Lehmanowsky, with many others of his old companions in arms, revolted from the Allies and joined his standard, the penalty for which was death, and after the defeat of Waterloo, his life being forfeited and himself hunted, he passed through the most severe trials and privations in attempting to escape to this country, and finally, after two years of stratagem and suffering that few could have endured, he reached the United States and settled in this country. He afterwards removed to Washington City, and there became a minister of the Lutheran denomination, in which capacity he continued to his death. From Washington he removed to Indiana, where he died.

Colonel Lehmanowsky was a friend and companion in arms of the late Dr. Jas. C. Verbeke, of Harrisburg. They saw one another for the last time for many years, on the memorable battle-field of Waterloo, from which each escaped a marked victim. Both reached America unknown to each other, and when by accident they met in this country, their feelings were so overpowering as to deprive both of the power of utterance for some moments. The friendship manifested for each other during their lives seemed greater than the ties of brothers or kindred, and they have both gone to their long-wished-for rest within the short period of a year, zealous Lutherans, in the full belief of the Christian's hope, happiness hereafter.—Lancaster Times.

AUNT SALLY'S MUFF.

BY C. M. KENDALL.

Miss Sally Strong was a peculiar woman.—For sixty years she had retained her name, which exactly suited her hard nature; and the man having the assurance to ask her to exchange it for his own, would have been a rare companion for Cummings in his tiger hunts in the jungles of Africa. At least, no one in the village of B——— would dare to question his manhood.

She was one of those who seemed to have been born an old maid in prospective. Before she had arrived at her teens, she used to stone the boys with a malignant delight; and ere she was out of them her contempt for the opposite sex was so strikingly manifest, that all prudent young men, if accidentally walking upon the same sidewalk, to avoid a meeting, would very quietly cross to the other side, and allow her the whole of it.

Yet she was a privileged person, and people would smile at an ill-natured remark from her, as though it were a compliment. Even the young minister of the parish treated her with marked respect, although he was certain to have his last sermon wonderfully criticised, in answer to a kind inquiry regarding her health.—The secret of all this might have been written in three words—she was rich; and even the clergyman was worldly-minded enough to desire to be on good terms with one who was the largest contributor to his support.

Aunt Sally, as the villagers universally called her, had received the bulk of her property from a deceased aunt, which her shrewd business qualities had enabled her to invest so advantageously that she increased in wealth as she did in years, and, like many other rich people advanced in life, had scores of affectionate young relatives, who each hoped to obtain a large slice of the cake of real estate which would be cut up in the event of her decease. Her cold grey eyes were too shrewd not to see through their eager attentions to the very selfishness of their source.

One nephew, however, did not belong to this class of schemers. On the contrary, the old lady was very often the victim of his jokes, and he would dispute with her just for the sake of having a hot argument. Yet for any real service, she would oftener apply to him than any one else. She had even loaned him a sum sufficient to stock a fine store, but still this Frederick so often annoyed and vexed her, that public opinion—extending no farther, of course, than the limits of the village—was equally divided as to whether he would be the favorite heir, or be cut off with a shilling.

One evening, upon the meeting of the parish sewing circle at the house of the clergyman, this nephew perpetrated a joke upon his aunt, the result of which he never forgot. She, unlike most maiden ladies, considered these gatherings a sort of fashionable nuisance, but usually was present in order to indulge in her sarcastic remarks. Her nephew was there, ostensibly to wait upon his aunt, but the fair Lucy, daughter of the worthy practitioner, Dr. Blood, particularly allured him with her charms.

'Did it ever occur to you, girls, what you are here for?' said Aunt Sally.

'To be sure, aunt,' answered one of the nieces, 'simply to make clothing for the poor heathen.'

'O, in Siam, Burmah, and other like places. Well, heavy woollen shirts are very serviceable garments, upon my word, for the people living under a tropical sun. They will doubtless be very grateful for clothing so suited to their climate.'

'Well done, aunt,' exclaimed Frederick. 'A good shot, and no mistake. But these circles are grand affairs, after all.'

'Grand affairs, indeed, for young men to say soft things, and silly girls to listen to them!—Grand affairs to dispense the accumulated gossip of a month! Grand affairs for scandal moving, and for everything but the purpose they profess.'

And aunt Sally looked about her with a triumphant glance, as though her charges were unanswerable.

In fact, too many felt the justice of her rebuke to measure words with her. Even Frederick agreed so much with her in the abstract that he was content to remain silent. Having achieved such a moral victory, the lady continued in unwonted good humor during the rest of the evening.

When the party broke up, as Frederick was taking leave of his young friends, with his aunt upon one arm and the fair Lucy upon the other, the old lady suddenly remembered that she had left her muff.

'Oh, never mind, aunt,' said the young man, 'I will get it and send it up to you in the morning.'

'But I do mind, Fred, for it is not my way to leave things about in this manner. But where can it be? I certainly left it with my bonnet and cloak.'

'Somebody must have taken it,' cried one.

'That is impossible,' answered another, for aunt's muff is unlike all others.'

'That is true,' said Fred, laughing, 'as a barrel is unlike a two-gallon keg.' And he gave Lucy a mischievous glance, which she interpreted to mean that he knew the whereabouts of the missing article better than any one else.

'It certainly is not with any of the ladies' things,' said one of the young relatives.

'Oh, plague upon you all!' was the kind reply; 'I must hunt it up myself, I suppose.'

'Deacon Gray, you have not taken aunt's muff by mistake, have you?' asked Fred maliciously.

That functionary drew himself up stiffly, as though the imputation was unworthy of an answer, and stepped aside.

'Well, I never,' exclaimed one of the young ladies.

'Who could have done it?' added another.

'Be silent—will you?' cried the irritable maiden, or tell me where I can find it.'

'Why, it is in Deacon Gray's hat, pressed in so tightly that we cannot remove it.'

'O, fie upon you, aunt! Such a hint, and the deacon only a recent widower,' exclaimed the laughing nephew.

Aunt Sally seized her muff, but the hat adhered most affectionately to it. By an angry wrench it was liberated, and the unoffending hat flew across the entry, projected by the vigorous foot of the incensed maiden. When it arrived at the terminus of its short journey, it had assumed a most questionable shape, and its condition might certainly have been termed 'shocking bad.'

'I'll pay you for this, young man.'

'Dont trouble yourself, dear aunt. So far as I am concerned, you are entirely welcome.'

'You will perhaps tell me that you have had no hand in this matter.'

'No, I will tell you no falsehood about it; but I intended it as a joke upon the stiff deacon, as much or more than upon yourself.'

'At least, it is but an ill trick you have played upon me, and now mark my words: You shall have reason to remember this muff to the latest day of your existence.'

'As you please, aunt, since you take it so seriously, but I didn't think that a silly joke would have thus offended you.'

Time thus passed on, and young Strong prospered famously in his business. He had amassed sufficient means to be enabled to pay his aunt the sum she had loaned him, but she declined receiving it, alleging that she preferred to have it on interest. In the meantime he had also persuaded the gentle Lucy to share his fortunes. As for aunt Sally, a singular mania seemed to possess her. In matters of real estate, stock, &c., she had become a perfect alchemist, turning all to gold.

The neigbors all looked on and wondered, but none dared remonstrate with her. She was often seen to visit the office of Squire ———, and it was rumored that she was making the final arrangement for the bestowal of her property after her decease. The affair of the muff was not forgotten, and it was current with the good villagers that Fred would have to pay dearly for the joke.

One morning the village was all action.—During the night the spirit of the redoubtable lady had taken its flight. She was found dead in her chair, and had died as she lived, alone. She had alarmed no one, during the night, nor had she suffered previous illness. Curiosity, of course was intense on the subject of her will, and it was produced as soon as decency would allow. All her connections were present, and their eager, hopeful anxious countenances would have furnished a rare subject for the pencil of an artist. The reading of the will proceeded, until it was finished except a single codicil. Each of her relatives, except her nephew, had been remembered—some to a greater extent than others, but none considerable.

At all events, not one-third of her fortune had been dispensed, and as the codicil only remained, all eyes were turned to Frederick Strong as the lucky one after all. But what was their surprise, when they found that it only made him the recipient of her old sable muff and contents. The word 'contents' again excited their curiosity, and to satisfy them, the article was produced and found to contain a simple paper sewed on to the lining. When detached and opened, in the bold hand writing of Aunt Sally were found these words:

'DEAR NEPHEW.—You will doubtless appreciate this, the last joke I shall ever be guilty of, as I appreciated yours on a certain time you remember. God bless you and yours.—Farewell.'

Frederick declared he was satisfied. The old lady had fairly retorted upon him, and he certainly deserved nothing better at her hands.

But what had become of aunt Sally's money?—that was the mystery, and it became more and more a 'nine days' wonder to the worthy villagers who discussed it on every occasion.—She was known to have a large sum of money at various banks, but all this the anxious relatives ascertained was drawn out a few days before her death. Squire A——— was consulted, who had drafted the will, but he stoutly maintained that the will covered the whole of her property, and he would have nothing further to do with it.

One evening, about six months after the old lady's death, while Frederick was conversing with his wife, the subject of the muff was introduced.

'That was a costly joke of yours, dear Fred,' said his wife gaily.

'But I got the muff at all events, Lucy, and what is better, no one has come forward to claim the three thousand dollars which she loaned me. I feel confident she intended to present it to me and therefore destroyed my note.'

'Let us have a look at the old relic, Fred, if the moths have not eaten it wholly up. I will return with it in a moment.

The muff was produced, and, as Lucy predicted, the lining was wofully moth eaten.

'My dear wife, you must look to this, for I prize it dearly on good Aunt Sally's account. I think you had better rip out the lining, and renovate the whole with campher.'

Lucy took her scissors and commenced at once on her task,

'What can the old lady have stuffed it with I wonder? Why, Fred, instead of cotton she has wadded it with dirty brown paper.

'Dirty brown paper, indeed, exclaimed her husband, springing from his chair and catching her hand as she was about to throw a bunch into the grate. 'Why, it is bank notes, or I am dreaming.

The mystery of the word 'contents' was now explained. Note after note was drawn out, until more than thirty thousand dollars lay on the table before them. A letter was also found from the aunt, which stated that she always intended him for her heir. His own note came to light, from which his name had been torn off. This new revelation of course created an immense excitement among the villagers. But Frederick and his wife kept on the even tenor of their wealth, simply but for themselves. One evening in each year, they open their splendid mansion to all. It is a famous affair for the villagers, and is known as the anniversary of 'Aunt Sally's Muff.'

FLORIDA IN MIDWINTER.

We copy the following pleasant sketch from the New York Courier and Enquirer. It is taken from a private letter written by a gentleman, who is at present sojourning near Tallahassee, Florida. He says:

"I was much interested in the negro celebration of Christmas. The town was filled with these children of Ham—some mounted high in carts, some on mules, and others on foot—magnificent aunties with towering turbans, young damsels decked in every variety of finery, and little black imps in neat white aprons—all with pockets well supplied with cash, which in every way they were fast ridding themselves of. The masters are exceeding liberal in the bestowal of Christmas gifts. One gentleman distributed $1,200 among his servants, another $1,000, and so on. About two thousand of the negroes made a trip on the cars down to St. Mark's, twenty-three miles distant, to be absent a week. The locomotive bell and whistle, and the rattle of the cars, were all drowned in the din of negro mirth and laughter.

We were invited the other day down to ex-Governor C——'s plantation to spend a few days in hunting ducks. The invitation was eagerly accepted, and with dogs, guns, and all the accoutrements necessary we soon set out. The ride was full of interest and novelty. Our way was over a hilly, sandy road, between hedges of the wild rose, the leaves yet green, and here and there the swelling buds bursting forth into tiny flowers of rare beauty. The water oaks and the myrtle, the magnolias and the ferns, gave an appearance of perpetual spring to the scenery. In the low bottoms were groves of grand old oaks, stripped of their leaves, yet with their limbs draped with festoons of silvery moss, waving gently with every motion of the air.

Extensive cotton plantations were on either side, with negroes picking the last batch, their black heads seen just above the surrounding white—a curious mingling of cotton and wool. At a distance were seen the quarters—quite a collection of neat white houses. As we approached, we observed in many cases, that they formed a long street, with rows of trees in front. They were well adapted for comfort, and were fitted up with considerable taste. And here, I may say, that in no slave State is the black laborer more comfortably situated than in this particular region. My own belief is that the plantation slaves of the South are the happiest class of laborers the sun shines upon; but nowhere have I seen better fed, better clothed, or better housed negroes, than in this immediate vicinity.

After a ten miles' ride we reached Lake Jackson, and never shall I forget the view its shores afforded us. Stretching away fifteen miles, hemmed in by irregular shores, inlaid with numberless islands, it presented a strangely beautiful aspect. I pulled up my horse just as his feet touched the little waves, and gazed for a full half hour. Within a stone's throw were a countless number of ducks of every variety, from the huge branch to the tufted cross-back. The woods resounded with the impatient cluck of wild turkeys, while overhead, the arched sky gave back the incessant cry of ten thousand geese. Upon the sand bars, we could distinguish the outlines of huge alligators, calmly biding their time, until some well fed pig might stray that way.

A mile across the little bay was the large and beautiful residence of the ex-Governor. It was situated upon a high bluff, which at once over-looked the lake and two thousand acres of the best cotton lands on the broad earth.—While we yet gazed, the sun went down, and the sky and lake reflected back its glories in soft and brilliant tints of every hue. Burlington, renowned for its sunsets, never witnessed such a scene. We forded the bay, and by dark found ourselves at the door of the house, surrounded by a whining pack of hounds that seemed to have awaited our coming.

After supper, I entered into conversation with the ex-Governor; and never have I listened to a man with greater pleasure. He is a fine representative of the old Whig party. His language was terse, pithy, and most expressive and witty or eloquent, he was full of sterling sense. He denounced the Democratic party in severest terms—characterizing the Southern democracy as the most arrogant, domineering, intolerant party that ever cursed any country in any age—ready at any time to mingle in one common ruin both country and Constitution, if their insane purposes could not be effected; vacillating hither and thither, restless as the waves, without principle; or any rule of truth or justice for guidance, and recklessly holding on their way, threatening destruction to both friend or foe that should attempt to reason with or oppose them. This impressed me all the more, when I observed on the walls of the room two large portraits of General Jackson and wife, taken expressly for the Governor while living with the General at the Hermitage."

The Germantown Telegraph nominates Commodore Paulding for President in 1860.

A SAILOR'S YARN.

We heard, the other day, a story related by an old sailor, Captain Jacob Jones, which made a great impression on us, and which we wish we could repeat with the unction and nautical phraseology of the worthy narrator.—It occurred during the last war. The captain who was a native of Plymouth, was running on to the coast on a schooner loaded with flour.—He had nearly reached his destination, when he was overhauled by an enemy's frigate, who ordered him peremptorily to heave a line aboard. There was no resisting the command, for the schooner was without arms, and the tender full of marines, and sailors armed to the teeth with pistols, muskets, and cutlasses. The captain had a light but fair breeze aloft, his sails drew, and he was driving near a reef, the entrance to which he was perfectly familiar with, and once inside which he was sure of making port, undisturbed by the tender.

With this view, he ordered one of his men forward with the line, and in a clear, stentorian voice, perfectly audible on board the tender, sang out—"Heave your line aboard!" then he added, sotto voce, so as to be heard only by his men, "Heave it short!"

The yankee sailor caught the hint, and "hove" according to directions. The end of the line fell splashing in the water.

High above the execrations of the English officer, commanding the tender, rose the roar of the indignant yankee skipper—"Is that the way to heave a line, you lubberly son of a land crab! Heave the line ship-shape, you lubber, or I'll cut your liver out! Heave it short.

Again the line fell short, and the English officer and Yankee captain vied with each other in showering imprecations and invectives on the head of the blundering "land-lubber." Meanwhile the breeze was freshening, and the schooner drawing nearer to the reef.

Again and again the order to heave was given, with the same undertone addition, and the same result. The Englishman began to smell a rat, and just as the Yankee skipper threw himself flat on his deck, and made his men follow his example, the report of a dozen muskets was heard, and a shower of bullets came whizzing through the rigging.

"Let them fire and be darned!" said the Yankee—"I'll show them a clean pair of heels."

And taking his tiller between his heels, as he lay upon the deck, he run the schooner cleverly inside the reef. They were soon out of gun shot from the baffled tender. Up went the stars and stripes, with a hearty cheer from the mariners, and a one-eyed sea-dog pulled out a fife, and gave them Yankee Doodle, in strains as melodious as the triumphant notes of porker that has escaped from the butcher's knife.—Capt. Jones, saved his bacon and his flour too.

A GOOD HIT FOR YOUTH.

An old chap in Connecticut, who was one of the most niggardly men known in that part of the country, carried on the blacksmithing business very extensively; and, as is generally the case in that state, boarded all of his own hands. And to show how he envied the men what they eat, he would have a bowl of bean soup dished up for himself to cool, while that for the hands was served up in a large pan just from the boiling pot. This old fellow had an apprentice who was rather unlucky among the hot irons frequently burning his fingers. The old man scolded him severely one day for being so careless.

How can I tell, said the boy, if they are hot unless they are red?

"Never touch anything again till you spit on it, if it don't hiss it won't burn."

In a day or two the man sent the boy in to see if his sons was cool. The boy went in—spit in the bowl of course the soup did not hiss. He went back and told the boss all was right.

Dinner! cried he.

All hands run, down sat the old man at the head of the table; and in went a large spoonful of the boiling hot soup to his mouth.

Good heavens! cried the old man, in the greatest rage. "What did you tell me that lie for you young rascal!"

I did not lie, said the boy very innocently. "You told me I should spit on anything to try if it was hot; I spit in your bowl, and the soup did not hiss, so I supposed it was cool."

Judge of the effect on the jours. That boy never was in want of friends among the journeymen.

'KEEP YOUR MOUTH SHUT.'—Never allow the action of respiration to be carried on through the mouth. The nasal passages are clearly the medium through which respiration was by our Creator designed to be carried on. 'God breathed into man's nostrils the breath of life,' previous to his becoming a living creature. The difference in the exhaustion of strength by a long walk with the mouth firmly closed, and respiration carried on through the nostrils instead of through the mouth is inconceivable to those who have never tried the experiment. It is said that the habit of carrying on the work of inspiration and expiration through the mouth is the origin of almost all the diseases of the throat and lungs.

A few days since, a rough, country looking fellow entered one of the New York Banks, and marching up to the counter, exclaimed, "Here I am, I want you to take a fair look at me." Without a word further he strode out. The next day the same customer appeared, uttered the same words, and again disappeared. The third day, at about the same time, he walked in, and advancing to the teller's desk, threw down a draft payable three days after sight.—"Now," said he, "you've seen me three times, I want the money for it!"

Cincinnati has a population of 244,000 inhabitants, an increase in ten years of over 87,000.

LOGICAL, VERY.

The Democrat of last week commenting on our remarks upon David Hay voting for the Locofoco candidate for Speaker of the House, comes to the very logical as well as rational conclusion, that because "Messrs. Scull & Ogle did nothing towards advancing his election," that therefore "it is none of their business who he votes for for Speaker." In fact, Mr. Mitchell thinks "there is downright impudence displayed in this announcement." Will Mr. Mitchell inform us since when it became a tenet of Democracy that a member of the Legislature or of Congress only represents those who voted for him? We in our simplicity and ignorance have heretofore thought that a member of a representative body always was deemed to represent his entire constituency, not those alone who voted for him. And if it be impudent in us to remark upon our representatives' votes or official conduct, we would like to know how Mr. Mitchell justifies his former strictures upon the official conduct of Gov. Pollock, or of Col. Edie, or Mr. Jordan our former Senator, or any of our former representatives; he will surely not pretend that he voted for any of them. In fact the boot is on the other foot, and it is downright impudence in the editor of the Democrat, who has obtained so unenviable a notoriety for his abuse of not only the public but private character of many of our citizens, to attempt to take us task for our remarks upon the public and official acts of our representative. Mr. Mitchell no doubt thought he was very cunningly laying a bait for the personal friends of Mr. Hay in thus assuming to take us to task for our comments, but such humbug is too shallow to gull even the most unsophisticated. As to Mr. Hay "standing true to the party that elected him," as the Democrat asserts, that is as sheer humbug as his former assertions. Mr. Mitchell knows as well as Mr. Hay himself does, that with simply the "Democratic" vote he could not have been elected. He induced Whigs, Americans, and Republicans to vote for him by the oft-repeated assertion that he was not a 'democrat,' and would not vote with that party, which assertion he even repeated after his election. If Mr. Hay ever offers as a candidate again, we will prove these false representations of his to the heart's content of Mr. Mitchell, and could do it now by a cloud of witnesses if necessary. As to bearing "intense hatred" to Mr. Hay, the charge is untrue and unfounded. We have always been on terms of personal amity with him, but we will not make an exception in his favor, and permit any private feelings to over ride our duty to our party friends, or as the publishers of a faithful and reliable Journal. If Mr. Hay did make and afterwards violated these pledges, as we stand ready to prove, the public can put their own estimate upon him, without the intervention of Mr. Mitchell or ourselves."—Somerset Herald.

ANOTHER REBUKE.—In addition to the rebuke administered to President BUCHANAN, on his Kansas policy, contained in the inaugural of Gov. PACKER, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted at a large and enthusiastic meeting held on the 18th ult., by the Democracy of Westmoreland county—the Democratic "Star of the West," in Pennsylvania:—

The Committee on Resolutions, by their chairman, William A. Stokes, Esq., reported the following, which were unanimously adopted:—

The Democracy of Westmoreland county, in mass meeting assembled, do unanimously resolve:

That the fundamental basis of American freedom is the right of the people, without distinction of locality, circumstance or result, to make the laws under which they live.

This great right, assailed during the late Presidential contest, by our opponents, was gloriously vindicated by the election of the Democratic candidates.

This victory was supposed to insure to all, and especially the citizens of Territories of the United States, the free exercise of all rights by which to declare, establish and maintain such institutions, policy, and measures as a majority might deem best adapted to promote their prosperity, security and happiness: and this without any dictation or restraint from any person or officers, or any unauthorized interference whatever.

Such independent freedom of the popular will can only be attained by a full exercise of the individual right of the elective franchise, and this, therefore, is the true test of the validity of Constitutional Government.

Wherefore. Congress should admit no State into the Union, except with a constitution ratified and adopted in all its parts by a majority of all the citizens to be governed by such Constitution, which majority should be real, not fictitious: fair, not fraudulent: direct, not implied: and anything short of this, is a mockery, a delusion, and a snare, infamous in act, and disastrous in consequence.

To abandon the people of a Territory to political intrigue, unfair intrusion, or lawless violence, and thus defeat the true expression and absolute application of the right of self-government, would be a violation of the honor and abandonment of the maxims of the Democratic party, and must finally result in rupture of the bonds by which the party is held together, and consequent sacrifice of all that secures the freedom, greatness, and glory of our country.

OUR UNFORTUNATE PRESIDENT.

It appears by letters from Washington that Mr. Buchanan has got himself into difficulty by his double-faced policy. Comodore Paulding, it is said, has private instructions from the President, fully warranting his capture of Walker in the style in which it was done, and entirely refuting the declaration in the message that the Commodore transcended his instructions.

On the other hand it is announced that fillibuster Walker, enraged at the President's desertion, is on his way to his trial in New Orleans, holding in his pockets documentary proof that the President was an original advocate and counsellor of the late unsuccessful fillibustering invasion of Nicaragua.

Thus there are two opposite and hostile parties, each disgusted with the President's duplicity and half-faced fellowship, and each holding a sword of Damocles over the terror stricken functionary of the White House. Truly, as Henry Clay said, it is better to be right than be President.—N. Y. Post.

In Brooklyn, N. Y., a few days ago, a school house took fire, and in the scramble of the scholars to escape, six children were trampled down and killed.

Bedford County, ss

AT an Orphans' Court held at Bedford, in and for the County of Bedford, on the 16th day of November, A. D., 1857, before the Judges of the said Court—

The petition of FR. JORDAN, Esq., administrator de bonis non of Richard E. Bonnett, late of Hopewell Township, deceased, was read and filed, setting forth, that as administrator, aforesaid, he filed an account, which was confirmed by this Court on the 15th of February, 1856, showing a balance of $1762,20 in his hands, that the said fund was distributed by an Auditor, whose report was confirmed by this Court on the 1st of September, 1856, since which time he has paid out the whole of said balance according to said Auditor's Report and the decree of the said Court thereon, and praying to be discharged from his office as administrator, as aforesaid—

Whereupon, On Motion of A. KING, Esq., the Court grant a Rule upon the heirs of Richard E. Bonnett, and upon all persons interested, to be and appear at our next Court and show cause if any they have, why the said Fr. Jordan should not be discharged from his office as administrator aforesaid.

By the Court.

L.S. IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and the seal of said Court at Bedford, the 19t day of November, A. D., 1857.

THE SECRET INFIRMITIES OF YOUTH AND MATURITY,

Just Published, Gratis, the 25th Thousand.

A FEW WORDS ON THE RATIONAL treatment, without Medicine, of Spermatorrhea or Local Weakness, Nocturnal Emissions, Genital and Nervous Debility, Premature Decay of the System, Impotency, and Impediments, to Marriage generally, by B. DE LANEY, M. D.

The important fact that the many alarming complaints, originating the imprudence and solitude of youth, may be easily removed WITHOUT MEDICINE, is in this small tract, clearly demonstrated; and the entirely new and highly successful treatment, as adopted by the Author, fully explained, by means of which every one is enabled to cure HIMSELF perfectly and at the least possible cost, thereby avoiding all the advertised nostrums of the day.

Sent to any address, gratis and post free in a sealed envelope, by remitting two postage stamps to Dr. DE LANEY, 17, Lispenard Street, New York.

Country Physicians, can have their orders filled, with the very best articles, at city prices at Dr. Harry's Cheap Drug Store, Pitt st. Bedford, Penn'a.
Oct. 31, 1856. DR. B. F. HARRY.

As the season for chapped hands and faces, is coming on, we advise our friends to call on Dr. Harry, at the cheap Drug Store, and get a box of Bazin's Amandine for prevention and cure of chapped hands, only 37½ per box.

PROFESSOR WOODS' HAIR RESTORATIVE.

WE CALL THE ATTENTION OF ALL, old and young, to this wonderful preparation, which turns back to its original color, gray hair—covers the head of the bald with a luxuriant growth—removes the dandruff, itching, and all cutaneous eruptions—causes a continual flow of the natural fluids; and hence, if used as a regular dressing for the hair, will preserve its color, and keep it from falling to extreme old age, in all its natural beauty. We call, then upon the bald, the gray, or diseased in scalp, to use it: and surely, the young will not, as they value the flowing locks, or the witching curls, ever be without it. Its praise is upon the tongues of thousands.

Watertown, Mass., May 1, 1855.

PROF. O. J. WOOD: Allow me to attest the virtues and magic powers of your Hair Restorative. Three months since, being exceedingly gray, I purchased and soon commenced to use, two bottles; and it soon began to tell, in restoring the silver locks to their native color, and the hair which was before dry and harsh, and falling off, now became soft and glossy, and it ceased falling; the dandruff disappeared, and the scalp lost all the disagreeable itching, so annoying before, and now, I not only look but feel young again.

Respectfully, yours, etc.
CHAS. WHITNEY.

New York, Oct. 2, 1855.

PROF. O. J. WOOD- Dear Sir: After reading the advertisement in one of the New York journals, of your celebrated Hair Restorative, I procured a half pint bottle, and was so much pleased with it that I continued its use for two months, and am satisfied it is decidedly the best preparation before the public. It at once removed all the dandruff and unpleasant itching from the scalp, and has restored my hair naturally, and, I have no doubt, permanently so.

You have permission to refer to me, all who entertain any doubts of its performing all that is claimed for it.

MISS FEEKS, 20½ Greenwich Av.

I have used Professor O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and have admired its wonderful effects. It restored my hair where it had fallen off; it cleans the head, and renders the hair soft and smooth—much more so than oil.

MARY A. ATKINSON.
Louisville, Nov. 1, 1855.

State of Illinois, Carlisle, June 27, '55.

I have used Professor O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and have admired its wonderful effect. My hair was becoming, as I thought prematurely gray, but by the use of the "Restorative," it has resumed its original color, and, I have no doubt, permanetly so.

SIDNEY BREESE.
Ex-Senator United States.

[From the Washington Star.]

Among the many preparations now in use for the restoring, preserving and beautifying the hair, there are none that we can recommend with more confidence than Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, now in general use throughout the States. This preparation possesses the most invigorating qualities, and never fails in producing the most happy results when applied according to directions. We refer our readers to the advertisement for a few of the innumerable certificates which have been sent by parties, who have been benefitted by it, and who feel happy in giving testimony to its wonderful effects produced on them.

DR. SANFORD'S INVIGORATOR, OR LIVER REMEDY

IS AN ARTICLE THAT EVERY BODY needs who is not in a perfect state of health for the Liver is second only to the heart in our human economy, and when that is deranged the whole vital machinery runs wrong. To find a medicine peculiarly adapted to this disease has been the study of one of the proprietors, in a large and extended practice for the past twenty years, and the result of his experiment is the Invigorator, as a never-failing remedy where medicine has any power to help. As a Liver Remedy it has no equal, as all testify who use it.

A lady writing from Brooklyn, says, "Would that I could express in this short letter the value your Invigorator has been to me in raising a large family of children, for it has never failed to relieve all affections of the stomach, bowels or attacks of worms. If mothers once had this remedy placed within their reach, and were taught how to use it, a fearful and untold amount of agony might be saved."

One of our prominent bankers says, "Five or six years since I found myself running down with a liver difficulty; resorting to your Invigorator, was greatly relieved, and, continuing for a season, was entirely restored."

A clergyman called at our office the other day and said he had given a poor woman a bottle, who was suffering very badly from Liver Complaint, and before she had taken the whole of it she was at work earning bread for her family.

A gentleman, recently from the West, says, while at Chicago, he was attacked with a slow, lingering fever, that baffled the skill of physicians, but the Invigorator cured him in a few days.

One of our city merchants said, while on a visit to Troy, a few days since, he was attacked with bowel and stomach disorders, so as to confine him to his room, he sent to the drug store for a bottle of Invigorator, took one dose, which relieved him so that he was able to attend his business.

An acquaintance, whose business compels him to write most of the time, says, he became so weak as to be unable at times to hold his pen, while at others, sleep would overpower him, but the Invigorator cured him.

A gentleman from Brooklyn called on us a week or two since, looking but the shadow of a man, with a skin yellow, pale and deathlike.—He had been for a long time suffering from Jaundice and Dyspepsia, and unable to attend to his business. We saw him again to-day a changed man, and to use his expression, he has not seen the bottom of the first bottle, and further adds "it saved my life, for I was fast going to a consumptive's grave."

Among the hundreds of Liver Remedies now offered to the public, there are none we can so fully recommend as Dr. Sanford's Invigorator, or Liver Remedy, so generally known now throughout the Union. This preparation is truly a Liver Invigorator, producing the most happy results on all who use it. Almost innumerable certificates have been given of the great virtue of this medicine by those of the highest standing in society, and it is, without doubt, the best preparation now before the public.

BEDFORD INQUIRER.

E PLURIBUS UNUM

BEDFORD, Pa.

Friday Morning, Feb. 15, 1858.

"FEARLESS AND FREE."

D. OVER—Editor and Proprietor.

Reduction of Terms!

THE INQUIRER AT ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS, IN ADVANCE!

We have changed the terms of the BEDFORD INQUIRER, from this date, to $1.50 per annum, if paid in advance. If payment be not made within the year, $2.00 will be charged. If delayed until after the year expires, $2.50 will be charged. These terms will be rigidly adhered to in all cases.

All subscriptions paid between this date, and February Court, on the new year, will be considered in advance.

Come on, then, friends, and subscribe for the INQUIRER; there is scarcely a man in the County but can afford to take a County paper at these low rates.

To all our old subscribers, who are indebted to us for over one year's subscription, we will settle off at the rate of $2.00 per annum, if paid until February Court. After that time $2.50 will be charged.

Dec. 4, 1857.

TO PERSONS RAISING CLUBS.

To any one raising us a Club of five new subscribers, cash in advance, $7.50, we will send one copy of our paper, one year, gratis. To any one raising us a club of ten new subscribers, cash in advance, $15, we will send one copy of our paper, two years gratis; and a proportionable length of time for larger clubs. Come on, friends, now is the time, these long winter evenings, and under our reduced terms, to raise us a large number of new subscribers. We advise all in want of a good paper, to subscribe for the BEDFORD INQUIRER.

We will furnish PETERSON'S MAGAZINE and the BEDFORD INQUIRER, both, one year, for $3.00 in advance.

The nigger-organ of last week asks why we don't publish the speeches of Bigler, Green, Fitch, the letter of Judge Black, &c. There is quite a difference between such stuff and official annual messages of our executive officers. The one is presumed, at least, to treat of the affairs between our own and other governments, recommendations of measures for the public weal, &c. The others are political, partizan speeches and letters, that would be of no interest to any one. Judge Black's letter is a disgrace to the position he holds, and was addressed to a partizan meeting of the worst population of Philadelphia.

But we will make a proposition to the nigger-organ: It it will publish the speech of Douglas, the whole letter of ex-Governor Walker, and the letter of Frederick P. Stanton, late Secretary of Kansas Territory, all of them Locofocos, we will publish the speech of Bigler, and the letter of Judge Black, the last, we presume, occupying about as much room as the former. What say you?

The Gazette says, that "he (Gov. Pollock) tickles the ears of the Know Nothings and throws a sop to the Abolitionists." Then he was after you with a long pole, Mr. Myers, wasn't he.—Inquirer.

☞ Not half as long a one as that with which H. Bucher Swoope last fall stirred up your rotten carcass, Mr. Buzzard.—Nigger Organ.

☞ The same one, we presume, that stirred you up, in the campaign of '56, when you were engaged in Somerset County initiating Know Nothings and making Know Nothing speeches! After the pole touched you, you turned round and made speeches on the other side! You were flush then, but before, it is well known you were out of sorts!

The nigger-organ says, that Bowman, the present Superintendent of public printing at Washington, in giving out contracts for the paper to be used by the Government, for the next year, saved nearly $13,000 over last year! The late Superintendent was a Locofoco, and at the prices he paid, there ought to have been double that amount saved to the Government! A pretty good pill, about $13,000, which the immaculate Bowman didn't save to the Government! In whose breeches pockets is it?

NEW PAPER.—U. J. JONES, Esq. is about to commence a new Democratic paper in Hollidaysburg. The prospectus has been issued, and the indications are that it will soon be under way. We presume it will support the Douglas, Walker and Forney wing of the Democracy. Mr. Jones, but a short time ago was the leading editor of the Standard, and is the talented author of the History of the Juniata Valley. Since Mr. Jones has ceased writing for that paper, its editorials are as insipid as the editor's brains. None but swine feed from that trough. "That's so."

Next week Court commences. We presume it will be quite a brisk Court. Our friends who are in arrears, and who may be in town, will please give us a call. The rules at the head of this column will not be departed from. Please notice them.

A strong effort is now making at Harrisburg, to repeal the present license laws, and the probability is that they will be repealed.

Hon. Wilson Reilly has our thanks for a very valuable public document.

PRIZE PENCIL AND PEN.—We have received from C. E. Todd & Co., 392 Broome Street, New York, one of their splendid Gold Pencils, fully worth $5, and a Gold Desk Pen, worth $2. We call attention of all those who wish to try their luck, to their advertisement in to-day's paper. Any one can send his name and if he don't like the prize, he need not send the money. The pencil and pen can be seen at our office.

AMBROTYPES.—We would advise all our friends who may visit town next week, and desire to have a good likeness of themselves, to call on Gettys, in the Odd Fellows building. He is a citizen of the County, and ought to be encouraged in preference to strangers, and besides his pictures are lasting and cheap, and do not fade in three or four weeks, but will remain the same for ages.

Frederick P. Stanton, late Secretary of Kansas, has written a letter in defence of his conduct there. He exposes the frauds perpetrated in that Territory by the border ruffians, and charges all the difficulty now existing to where it properly belongs—James Buchanan. We will publish it in our next.

The weather has changed, and we are now having winter in earnest. February came in like a lion—how she will go out, we are not prepared to say. During the last month many of our farmers were engaged in ploughing, and others in making maple sugar.

We are indebted to D. J. CHAPMAN, Esq., of Philadelphia, for the following dispatch:

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 4, 1858.

The banks of this city yesterday resumed specie payment, and the country banks will probably take a like step soon—as some of them have already resumed.

We have received the second number of "Peterson's Philadelphia Counterfeit Detector and Bank Note List." It is one of the best publications of the kind in the country, and we recommend it to the favorable consideration of our business men.

The "American Agriculturist" for February, has been received. It is a splendid number. Every farmer should have it. Terms, $1 per annumn, in advance; single copies, 10 cents. Orange Judd, A. M., editor and proprietor, New York.

THE UNION AGAIN IN DANGER.

The Legislature of Alabama have unanimously instructed the Governor, in the event of the refusal of Congress to admit Kansas under the Lecompton Constitution, to call a State Convention to determine upon measures of redress. The Alabama Legislature, some weeks since, resolved, that such action on the part of Congress would be good cause for dissolving the Union.

This is a preliminary movement, to be followed in other Southern States, dragooning Congress into adopting the Lecompton Constitution, or, in the event of failure in that case, to prepare the way for an actual disruption of the Confederacy. The Washington Republic says:

There are men who go to the Capitol every day, and take their seats in the Senate and House, who scarcely affect to conceal their treasonable hostility to the Government under which they live. If the Lecompton Constitution is rejected, they will do their best to induce a general withdrawal from Congress of the Southern members. We believe that they will ignominiously fail, but that they will make the attempt, is certain.

In the meantime, not a moment should be lost in arousing the country to the true state of affairs, and in concentrating such expressions of public opinion as will prevent the legislation of Congress from being controlled by Southern bullying. We have had enough of it. It has became intolerable. The Free States have suffered too much humiliation already. The Bobadils of Alabama, and kindred spirits elsewnere, must be taught a lesson. Now, or never!

CONFESSION.

CHARLOTTE JONES, the unfortunate woman condemned to death as one of the principal actors in the M'Keesport tragedy, has made a last confession, which it is said is to be used as a means of swaying Executive clemency in favor of MONROE STEWART, also condemned as a participator in the same crime. But little credence is attached to this confession by the Pittsburg papers, from the fact that she has from the day of her arrest, shown an utter disregard of the obligations of the most sacred oaths, and as deliberately implicated one of her own blood in the most horrible of crimes, as she carelessly exonerated him when the allegation could serve no possible purpose.—With equal deliberation she made MONROE STEWART a principal in the transaction, sealed her lips as to his innocence, until the sentence of the law had been passed upon him and all hope of escape was extinguished, and then—and not till then—consented to corroborate FIFE'S acknowledgment of his innocence, and published to the world an autobiographic narrative of a wretched life, now about to terminate in infamy. In this she professes to "tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth," concerning her life-doings up to the day of her incarceration, and asks the public so to believe it. Her whole confession abounds in the most improbable stories, and in several instances her declarations meet with a flat contradiction from persons to whom reference is made in her shameful narrative.

The Lecompton Constitution.

CONGRESSIONAL.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2, 1858.

A message was received from the President, transmitting the Lecompton Constitution, which was read. It quotes the severe language of Governor Walker, when in the Territory, declaring "the City of Lawrence as being the hot bed of abolitionism."

It says the dividing line in Kansas is not between the two great polltical parties of the country, as in all other places, but it is between those who are loyal to the Government and those who are endeavoring to destroy it by force and usurpation. It says, Kansas is at this day as much a Slave State as Georgia and South Carolina, and recommends the admission of Kansas under this Constitution as the only means of restoring tranquility.

THE DEAD RESTORED TO LIFE.—A few years ago it was generally supposed that gray hair could not be restored to its original color, or made to grow on bald heads; but since the advent of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, many persons who dyed years ago are now seen daily in the various walks of life, appearing in all the vigor of youth, wearing their own dark flowing locks, simply from having used this great Restorative.—Louisville Times.

THE MARKETS.

The Flour market is decidedly dull, and the sales are confined to 500 barrels standard brands at $4 50 per barrel, and in small lots for the supply of the wants of the trade at $4 50 a 4 62½ for superfine; $4 75 a 5 for extra, and $5 25 to $6 for extra family and fancy lots. Shipping brands are freely offered at our lowest quotation. Rye Flour is dull at $3. 200 barrels Corn Meal sold at $2 94 per barrel.

Grain—Supplies of Wheat come forward slowly. Small sales of good Pennsylvania red at $1 10 a 1 12 per bushel, and 1200 bushels choice Tennessee do. at $1 17, all in store; white ranges from $1 20 to 130. But little doing in Rye or Corn. We quote the former at 70 cents, and the latter at 57 a 58 cents, for yellow, in store, and 1200 bushels sold at 60 cents, afloat. Oats continue dull at 33 a 34 cents per bushel.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 2, 1858.

FLOUR.—We heard on 'Change of sales of 600 bbls. Howard Street and 250 bbls. Ohio Super, all selected brands, at $4.50 per bbl., cash, and we had also reported sales of 250 bbls. City Mills do. at $4.50 cash, and of 500 bbls. do. at $4.50 per bbls. on time. Rye Flour is dull at $3a$3 12½, and we continue to quote Corn Meal at $3.25 per bbl. for both Baltimore and Brandywine.

GRAIN.—Red Wheats may be quoted as ranging from 100 to 108 cts. for fair to strictly prime, and we quote white do. at 105a110 cts. for fair, and 115a120 cts. for good to prime shipping lots. Wheats have declined within the last day or two several cents per bushel, and they closed to-day quite heavy at the figures named above. We note a slight improvement to-day in Corn. There were about 20,000 bushels at market, most of which was disposed of at 51a52 cts. for damp white, 55a56 cts. for prime dry lots do., and 53a56 cts. for good to prime lots of yellow. There was no Rye offered to-day. We continue to quote Pennsylvania at 72a73 cts. per bushel. Of Oats there were 2,100 bushels offered, and sales of 1,500 bushels Pennsylvania were made at 33 cts. We quote Virginia and Maryland Oats at 30a32 cts.

A CARD.

THE subscriber would respectfully announce to his friends and customers, that he has associated with him in the Mercantile business, John G. Minnich, of Bedford Borough, and that hereafter the same will be conducted under the firm of REED & MINNICH, at the old stand. He takes this opportunity to return his thanks for the past liberal support awarded him by his friends, and solicits a continuance of their favor for the new firm. He respectfully calls upon his friends and customers to settle up their accounts as soon as convenient, pay or no pay, as it is very desirable to have his old books closed. Very Respectfully,

JACOB REED.

AGENTS, ATTENTION!

Do you wish to find good employment, and make money with little or no investment, and without interfering with your regular business? If you do, read this advertisement.

C. E. TODD & Co., of 392 Broome Street, New York, are manufacturing and selling massive gold Pencils for $5 each, (which are cheap at that price,) and they throw in a gift or prize with each Pencil, worth from $2 up to $5, $10, $15, $20, $25, $30, $50, $75, $100, $200, and $500. Don't cry out, "Humbug! Lottery!" It's no such thing. The Pencils are sold at their cash value, and all the profits over the first cost are thrown into the gifts, which actually cost the purchaser nothing. The prizes are distributed on a simple plan of drawing, which won't take too much room to explain, but which has never failed to give complete satisfaction. We have drawn and sent to purchasers 183 gold watches of various prices, 74 purses of gold dollars, 238 gold lockets, 850 gold chains, and a corresponding number of other prizes, within two months.

THERE ARE NO BLANKS,

but every purchaser draws a prize worth $2 certain, and it stands thousands of chances to be a higher figure.

We want a good agent in every neighborhood throughout the country, to solicit purchasers, and any agent, to be successful, must have a Pencil and prize to exhibit. We pay agents $1 cash for each purchaser, he obtains, and the first person in any neighborhood who applies for a Pencil and gift, will receive the agency for that locality. Should an agent obtain a valuable prize to exhibit with his Pencil, he would have little difficulty in obtaining scores of purchasers, and making it a paying business.

A NEW IDEA! READ!! READ!!!

We ask nobody to send their money till they know what prize they draw. Any person wishing to try their luck, can first send us their name and address, and we will make their drawing and inform them by return mail what prize they drew, when they can send on and take the Pencil and prize, or not, whichever they choose. We give this privilege only once to a purchaser. After the first drawing, every purchaser will be required to send in advance, through the authorized agent.—We will send with each drawing the number taken out, with full description of the plan of drawing.

DR. WALTON'S
AMERICAN PILLS.
JOY TO THE AFFLICTED.
YOUNG AMERICA VICTORIOUS!

ONE small box of Pills cures ninety-nine cases out of a hundred. No Balsam, no Mercury, no odor on the breath, no fear of detection. Two small pills a dose; tasteless and harmless as water. Full directions are given, so that the patient can cure himself as certain as with the advice of the most experienced surgeon, and much better than with the advice of one of little experience in this class of disease.

SENT BY MAIL TO ANY PART OF THE COUNTRY by enclosing one dollar to Dr. D. C. Walton, No. 154 North Seventh St. below Race, Philadelphia. A liberal discount to the trade. None genuine without the written signature of D. G. Walton, Proprietor.

Dr. W.'s treatment for Self-abuse Weakness, &c., is entirely different from the usual course. Dr. W. has cured hundreds who have tried others without benefit. The treatment is as certain to cure as the sun is to rise. Enclose a stamp, and address Dr. W. as above giving a full history of your case, and you will bless the day you made the effort to secure what is certain—A RADICAL CURE.

Jan. 29, 1858.—2t.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

BY virtue of sundry writs of Fi. Fa. to me directed, there will be sold at the Court House, in the Borough of Bedford, on Monday the 8th day of February, 1858, at 1 o'clock, P. M., the following Real Estate, to wit:

One Tract of Land containing 250 acres, more or less, about 50 acres cleared and under fence, with a two story Log House and log stable thereon erected, adjoining lands of Joseph Barkman, Philip Snider and others, situate in Monroe Township, Bedford County, and taken in execution as the property of James Mountain.

Estate of William Lane, dec'd.

BEDFORD COUNTY, ss.

AT an Orphans' Court, held at Bedford, in and for the County of Bedford, on the 16th day of November, A. D., 1857, before the Judges of the same Court—

The petition of John Mower and S. L. Russell, Administrators de bonis non, cum testamento annexo of William Lane, late of said County, dec'd, was read and filed, setting forth, that in pursuance of an order of this Court, they made sale of all the Real Estate of the said dec'd, so far as they then knew, and the money arising therefrom was applied to the payment of the debts of said dec'd, so far as the same were reached, that they have lately been informed that the said William Lane owned a body of unimproved wood land in Letterkenny Township, Franklin County, adjoining lands of Isaac Rosenberry, and others containing 2000 acres or thereabouts, that debts to a considerable amount, not less than $6,206, against the estate of said deceased yet remain unpaid, and praying the Court to make a decree authorizing them to raise, say $3,500, if possible, from the said Real Estate in Franklin County.

Whereupon, on motion of S. L. RUSSELL, Esq., the Court grant a Rule upon the heirs, and all parties interested, to be and appear at an Orphans' Court, to be holden at Bedford, on the 2d Monday, 8th day of February, next, and show cause, if any they have, why a decree should not be made by the Court, pursuant to the prayer of the petitioner.

L.S. IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF I have hereunto set my hand and the seal of our said Court at Bedford, the 19th day of November, A. D., 1857.

HOWARD ASSOCIATION,
PHILADELPHIA.

A Benevolent Institution, established by special endowment for the relief of the sick and distressed, afflicted with Virulent and Epidemic diseases.

TO all persons afflicted with Sexual Diseases, such as SPERMATORRHŒA, SEMINEL WEAKNESS, IMPOTENCE, GONORRHŒA, GLEET, SYPHILLIS, the Vice of ONANISM, or SELF ABUSE, &c., &c.

The HOWARD ASSOCIATION, in view of the awful destruction of human life, caused by Sexual diseases, and the deceptions practised upon the unfortunate victims of such diseases by Quacks, several years ago directed their Consulting Surgeon as a CHARITABLE ACT worthy of their name, to open a Dispensary for the treatment of this class of diseases, in all their forms and to give MEDICAL ADVICE GRATIS, to all who apply by letter, with a description of their condition, (age, occupation, habits of life, &c.,) and in cases of extreme poverty, to FURNISH MEDICINES FREE OF CHARGE. It is needless to add that the Association commands the highest Medical skill of the age, and will furnish the most approved modern treatment.

The Directors, on a review of the past, feel assured that their labors in this sphere of benevolent effort, have been of great benefit to the afflicted, especially to the young, and they have resolved to devote themselves, with renewed zeal, to this very important but much despised cause.

Just published by the Association, a Report on Spermatorrhœa, or Seminal Weakness, the Vice of Onanism, Masturbation or Self-Abuse, and other Diseases of the Sexual Organs, by the Consulting Surgeon, which will be sent by mail, (in a sealed letter envelope,) FREE OF CHARGE, on receipt of TWO STAMPS for postage.

Address, for Report or treatment, Dr. GEORGE R. CALHOUN, Consulting Surgeon, Howard Association, No. 2 South Ninth Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

By order of the Directors.

Visitors to the Bedford Mineral Springs will find the Washington Hotel a comfortable summer retreat—and no pains will be spared to please all who patronize the house.

Boarders will be taken by the day, week, month and year.

☞ A gentleman of high qualification, and courteous department, has charge of the house, who will do all in his power to make the guests happy and comfortable.

☞ Terms as moderate as anywhere else in the place.

Daily Stages from Latrobe, Cumberland, Hollidaysburg and Hopewell, all stop at this Hotel.

A Hack belonging to this Hotel will run between Bedford and the Springs.

Rev. G. W. AUGHINBAUGH, A. M., Principal,

Mrs. GEO. W. AUGHINBAUGH, Preceptress.

Miss CORNELIA A. EVARTS, Music, French, Drawing, &c.

Mrs. LUCY SPOTTSWOOD, Oil Painting and Shell Work,

Miss MARY HELEN SMITH, Assistant.

THE duties of this Institution will be resumed on Monday, Aug. 31st. Owing to the limited accommodations of the Seminary Building, the number of pupils will be limited. It is important, therefore, that applications for admission be made at an early day. Those who enter before the expiration of half the quarter, will be charged for the whole quarter: those who enter after the expiration of half the quarter, will be charged for the half quarter. No deduction made for absence except in cases of protracted illness.

In this school students are prepared for the higher classes of any college, or to enter at once upon the active duties of life.—Whilst special care is taken to form in our pupils habits of order, strict punctuality and thoroughness, their Physical, Moral and Social Education is not neglected.

The government of the school is designed to be parental. It is the aim of the Principal and his associates to excite in their pupils a love of right doing; and to awaken within them some proper consciousness of the dignity of humanity. Parents may rest assured that any gross delinquency on the part of their children will be reported to them immediately, should circumstances require it, or the discipline of the school fail to accomplish the desired reformation.

TERMS per quarter of 11 weeks, including Board, Tuition, Furnished Room, Washing, Light and Fuel, $40.00,—one-half in advance.

The Great English Remedy.
SIR JAMES CLARKE'S
Celebrated Female Pills.

Prepared from a prescription of Sir J. Clarke, M. D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

This invaluable medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous diseases to which the female constitution is subject. It moderates all excess and removes all obstructions, and a speedy cure may be relied on.

TO MARRIED LADIES

it is peculiarly suited. It will in a short time bring on the monthly period with regularity.

Each bottle, price One Dollar, bears the Government Stamp of Great Britain, to prevent counterfeits.

CAUTION.

These Pills should not be taken by females during the FIRST THREE MONTHS of Pregnancy, as they are sure to bring on Miscarriage, but at any other time they are safe.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and Whites, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed, and although a powerful remedy, do not contain iron, calomel, antimony, or anything hurtful to the constitution.

Full directions accompany each package.
